PITY THE POOR BLACKMAILER

Gentle reader: pause a moment and shed a tear for the poor blackmailer. What with the depression and the age of free and easy morals his plight is indeed a serious one.

It was a fine art in the days of yore. Blackmailers were pillars of society—almost. Every community had them in one form or another. Elegant, suave fellows who lived on the fat of the land while victims, "paid, and paid and paid." Homes were mortgaged, jewels locked, bank clerks embezzled, anything and everything went to keep the closet door locked tight on the family skeleton. And when all was gone there was nothing left for the poor victim but the grave and he blew out his brains.

But now what does the blackmailer get, we ask you?

Does gentle wife shriek and fall into a dead faint when confronted with prima facie evidence of husband's perfidy? Not so indeed. Gentle wife may give a scornful, raucous ha! ha! for the other woman. Perhaps she is amused and it is possible that she takes a prouder self now and then and is sympathetic but in any event she doesn't pay and pay and pay. Reputations are, so to speak, easy come, easy go; and certainly in times of depression money can't be spent on ops.

And what does hardworking, honest John do when he hears about Jane's little shortcomings? And another ha! ha! from good old John. He may be shocked a little; he may growl and roar; and he might possibly be surprised and not a little pleased to learn there is life in the old girl yet. But in any event he does everything but "pay the blackmail."

The old family skeleton now days turns scarlet and breaks a dusty leg over the goings-on of grandma in shorts.

Gone, gone, are the days when an editor could garner in pages of cash advertising by carefully chosen words and sinister glances. It's gotten to the point where people pay to have a good, torrid scandal published—it makes business better.

And that is the tragic situation of the blackmailer. Only one thing can save him—bring it quickly—a CODE. A code of fair play for the blackmailer—a code from the morals of the Nineties that will bring back the blush and compel every individual to turn a deep scarlet at the thought of anything naughty.

Until this comes about gentle reader, pause a moment; do your part—shed a tear for the blackmailer.

PRINTING SOLICITOR RUN OUT OF TOWN

A solicitor for one of the Southern cut rate printing concerns was ordered to quit soliciting this week when he refused to take out a peddling license. He refused to go up to Judge Wood's office when requested to do so by Officer Guth, saying his "time was too valuable" and was later compelled to face the Judge, and given an opportunity to take out a license or quit soliciting. The man left immediately. About six weeks ago a solicitor along similar lines took orders for printing from several people here, collecting a small deposit in advance. Orders have never been received and the people are out their money. The Sun has no objection to competition even though it be lower in price than we are able to meet. It does object very much to competition from shops that employ boys and girls at four or five dollars a week and take money from Carmel without paying a license or taxes here.

MAN PETITIONS THEN FORGETS

Most of us believe in God. Nearly all of us in times of great distress are willing and anxious to take part in ceremonies petitioning the All Highest for help or relief. But irrespective of results, that is the end of the matter, although it is a momentous fact that public prayers are generally answered.

A newspaper we receive from the northern part of the state in one issue chronicles the fact that the next Sunday the churches will be devoted to praying for relief from the long drought that was devastating the land. The next issue of the papers records the heaviest rainfall in years, the crops saved and the public generally happy. But not one word of public thanksgiving ceremonies and not the slightest reference to prayers being answered. No doubt one or two ministers remembered and gave thanks and possibly a few individuals.

Indians in Arizona every fall have a great ceremony that is a prayer for rain, and it is notable that the rain nearly always comes. After the rains come, they have a still greater ceremony lasting for days offering thanks to the Great Spirit for His blessings. But the Indians of course are savages and have nothing else to do. We wonder.

HOWARD PETERS FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR

Howard D. Peters, civil engineer and surveyor of Salinas, announces his candidacy for County Surveyor for Monterey county. He has been a resident of Monterey county, and Salinas for 18 years. Born in Spokane, Washington, he is 41 years of age.

He attended the public schools in the Twin Cities, Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minnesota and later in Chicago, Ill., where his father is a newspaper man in the employ of the Hearst Newspapers.

As a young man he worked at railroad surveying in Utah and Colorado, and in the iron ore fields of northern Minnesota. Following this he attended the U. S. Army Engineer School in the Corps of Engineers, Honolulu, T. H. where he studied surveying and engineering under the instruction of Army engineer officers, and upon the completion of this was assigned to active duty on surveying and engineering work, on the Islands of Oahu and Hawaii in connection with the Government development of roads, water supply, surveys and the Pearl Harbor Drydock. Returning to the States, he was engaged for a time in irrigation work in the rice district of the Sacramento Valley. Following this he was in the employ of the Spreckels Sugar company, as surveyor and engineer for about three years and following that was associated with Lou G. Hare, former county surveyor of Monterey county for two years. At the death of Mr. Hare he opened his own office in Salinas, where he was engaged in the general practice of Surveying and Engineering for about 13 years. He is a registered civil engineer and a licensed land surveyor under

LAUGH THIS ONE OFF

"Chiselers are few and far between. They are not hard to catch." General Johnson says this very cheerfully and confidently in a recent interview.

BALLOTS FOR CITY ELECTION A MESS

It would be interesting to know why, and by whose authority, ballots for Carmel elections are printed out of town. The job is one of the very simplest, cheapest types of printing that any of the five print shops in Carmel could do, not only as good, but better. The last lot of ballots were a mess; the City Hall bond issue was printed as $30,000 instead of $50,000 and Thoburn's name was misspelled. Local printers could have corrected the mistake had they made it which is unlikely. Carmel tax money should be kept at home where it will do some good.

IRISH HARPER SINGS FRIDAY IN GALLERY

Those who love "old Ireland" and the "green" will not miss tomorrow (Friday) evening's concert when Charles O'Connor sings traditional Irish songs to his own accompaniment on a small hand harp in the Denny-Watrous gallery.

In olden times it was a rule laid down, that "every king should have in his household a harper," and the songs that they sang were well known through frequent hearing to every home. These same songs have been "handed down" by word of mouth, though precious bits are undoubtedly lost, and here and there in Ireland are districts which sing them in the traditional way, in the ancient tongue.

Charles O'Connor, who is Irish, every inch of him, has collected these old songs for love of them, and he sings them in the natural, spontaneous way of the old harpers. He accompanies himself on a small hand harp and sings several which he has heard in West Cork, one of the few places where the songs are still to be heard in their original manner. Mr. O'Connor's program for Friday night is as follows:

My Gentle Harp
The Little Red Lark
The County of Mayo
Mild Mable Kelly
Kelly of Killan
The Black Phantom
Moorlough Mary
O'Donnell's March
When She Answered Me
As I Was Goin' to Ballynure
The Summer is Come
The Lark in the Clear Air
Paddy the Piper
War Song
Mr. O'Connor will sing the following in Irish:
Una Bhan.
Rozlin Dubh
Is Traugh Gan Peata'n mha-air Agam.

Altogether it will be a most intriguing program.

A. D. White and family left today for their new home in Mountain View, where Mr. White had been transferred by his company, the Shell Oil. They lived in apartments in the P. G. and E. Building.

This is the first time the office of County Surveyor has been contested in Monterey county for twenty years.

HENRY F. DICKENSON IS ELECTED TREASURER

At a meeting of the executive committee for the forthcoming Peninsula Hospital campaign, held at headquarters in Carmel Tuesday, Henry F. Dickenson was elected treasurer of the fund which will be placed in escrow until such time as a duly elected board of governors is chosen by the subscribers.

Chairman Joseph Schoeninger announced his committees at this meeting and stated that the financial fund effort would be launched at a dinner meeting of the members of the campaign organization on Monday evening, April 16, at the clinic. At this time final instructions will be given the workers and an inspection of the hospital made.

During the week, the various chairmen of the campaign divisions have been busily engaged in building their personnel. There is a growing enthusiasm for the success of this great community undertaking and although solicitations have not been started, a number of important subscriptions have been received at headquarters in the Monterey Trust and Savings Bank.

ROMYLANE'S NEW CHEF HERE-FOUR YEARS AGO

George M. Davis is here again at Romylane's! If you don't know George M. Davis' cooking then you were not in Carmel four years ago, for he was then acknowledged to be the last word in chefdom.

When Mr. Romine was asked what Davis specialized in he replied that he specialized in cooking, and what cooking!

Romylane's new (old) chef was for some time with the Pullman company.

Mr. Romine is inviting you through the Sun columns to come in and try some of Mr. Davis' new dishes, along with some of his old standbys.

MRS. LEOTA TUCKER IN NEW QUARTERS

One of the prettiest studios in Carmel is the photo studio of Mrs. Leota Tucker who has recently moved from the corner of Monte Verde and Ocean to the rooms above the Carmelita Shop on Ocean, next to the Carmel Theatre.

With such surroundings one feels so perfectly at ease that it is possible to secure a natural photograph, and for taking these photographs Mrs. Tucker has the very latest equipment since moving.

Mrs. Tucker has had many years of experience in photo work, being associated with her husband during his lifetime in their San Jose studios, so that the name "Tucker" on a photograph has come to mean quality work.

Mrs. Tucker is delighted to have all who are at all interested in the art of photography visit her studio and talk "shop."

Miss Helen Greene is back to her home in the Chapman house after spending two weeks in San Francisco. She reports her mother, Mrs. Clay Greene, who has been in the hospital for the past week or so as improving.

R. G. Leidig and C. L. Berkeley were initiated into the Elks lodge in Monterey Monday night.

ROLAND RICE EXHIBITS AT SEVEN ARTS GALLERY

California wild flowers in all their splendor, you may see them in picture at the Seven Arts gallery for one week beginning Saturday afternoon.

Roland Rice is the artist. News notes from the Paul Elder gallery where he recently exhibited say: "This collection of nearly 400 pictures combining excellence in composition and painting, recreates the original plants to almost their third dimensional naturalness of form and color."

We in Carmel especially love our wild flowers so it is likely that during Mr. Rice's exhibition practically every Carmelite will visit the Seven Arts gallery.

Mr. Heron has only recently completed the redecoration of the gallery so that now its silvery tones lend themselves to the artist's work.

SUPT. JAMES G. FORCE MAKES APPOINTMENT

With the resignation of Miss Clara Kellogg from the school board before the legal expiration of her term the first week in May, Supt. James G. Force has appointed Mrs. Helen Levinson, newly elected trustee, to fill out the unexpired time. He also appointed Mrs. Levinson to take up the duties of clerk which office was filled by Miss Kellogg.

The board will meet Monday for organization for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Stahl spent several days last week transacting business and visiting in San Francisco.

Mrs. Louise Hasty spent last Friday in Atascadero looking after property interests.

P. T. A. ENJOYS FINE MEETING WEDNESDAY

One of the most interesting meetings of the P. T. A. this year was held Wednesday afternoon at Sunset when a large number listened to a most entertaining and helpful program.

Principal O. W. Bardarson made the announcements for Public School Week; Mrs. Anna Kohner gave a highly instructive talk on "The Kindergarten's Contribution to the Child's Social Adjustment;" Mr. Calley, teacher of manual training in Sunset, told of "Activities in Shop and Clay Work" while Miss Anna Marie Baer gave a comprehensive survey of the "Practical and Cultural Value of Art."

Rev. Melvin Dorsett of the Community Church explained the Carmel recreational plan for the coming summer. Mr. Dorsett hopes that Carmel will be among those cities for which federal funds will be allotted for recreation. He has some excellent plans which will not only benefit the residents but will make Carmel more attractive to the young people who come here for their vacations.

Reports were made on the recent health examinations which were very encouraging and spoke well for those who have the welfare of the children in hand.

SUNSET TEAMS PLAY PACIFIC GROVE TEAMS

Two very interesting games of base ball were played between the Pacific Grove nines and the Sunset nines, in which the Sunset heavyweights won in a score of 2 to 1 and the lightweights lost 15 to 6.

Brownell for Sunset pitched a steady, fine game, and Phillips as short stop played a fine game for Carmel.

It is more than mere talk—the modern electric range and water heater do mean cooler kitchens in hot summer.

Just why they do mean this is simply explained. For example, in the thickly insulated oven of the electric range cooking temperature may be at 500 degrees. Yet outside on the oven top or door it is just barely warm. The same is true of the electric water heater—the water inside the tank may be hot but the tank cover is hardly warmer than your hand.

Why not have these cool and capable kitchen companions working for you in your kitchen this summer and all the summers for many years? They are not expensive to buy right now. Purchase terms are exceptionally easy. And on the low electric rate they are most economical to operate.

1¢ per kilowatt hour! A new low rate block in the electric rate for cooking and water heating consumers.

P. G. and E. electric lines are interconnected through 46 counties. Your light and power is insured by this network against interruption by storm or accident.

A petition was circulated this week asking the new council to appoint Bernard Rowntree as the new police commissioner.

J. H. Thoburn spent Tuesday in San Mateo transacting business.

W. E. Mack, owner of the Carmel Laundry, went to the hospital last Friday for a three weeks' rest.

Miss Anne Tyler of Berkeley spent last week as a guest in the home of Mrs. G. F. Tooker.

Mrs. Lovell Triggs and Dudley Triggs of Palo Alto spent the week-end with Mrs. Louise Hasty in Carmel.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon, Sunday, April 15, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord" (Jer. 30: 17). Other Bible citations will include: "And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying, Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy but to fulfill." (Matt. 5: 2, 17.)

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If sin, sickness and death are as real as Life, Truth and Love, then they must all be from the same source; God must be their author. Now Jesus came to destroy sin, sickness, and death; yet the Scriptures aver, 'I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill.' Is it possible then, to believe that the evils which Jesus lived to destroy are real or the offspring of the divine will?" (p. 474.)

High School Notes

Defeating the Watsonville tennis team last Saturday, 9 to 2, won for the Monterey team the C.C.A.L. tennis championship.

Charles Bauer won both his singles and his doubles matches, while Joe DeAmaral lost his match.

Monterey defeated the Pacific Grove team last Saturday by a score of 80 to 38, in the heavyweight division, and 80 to 32 in the lightweight division.

The Miyamoto brothers starred for the Monterey team, winning 35 out of the 80 points. They took first places in all six field events, and a first in the low hurdles, "Ky" placing first in the high and broad jump, pole vault and low hurdles, while Yoshi placed first in the shot put, discus and football throw. "Swede" Turner and Gordon Bain also took part in the meet.

The April Circus, a traditional high school event, will take place Friday night, April 20, at eight o'clock in the new gym. Admission will be five cents and there will be a five cent charge for each concession all the regular circus activities being offered including dancing.

Bids are being advertised for by the school board for a new bus which will make the run from the Sur, Pfeiffer's, and Palo Colorado districts. This bus will bring the students from the new districts starting after the summer vacations.

Mrs. Grace Plank, Mrs. Robert Coker and Mrs. George Wishart attended the convention of the 20th district of the P.-T. A. held in Salinas Tuesday.

THE GOOD FAIRY IS EXCELLENT PRODUCTION

The Good Fairy was a good play and well done. Peggy Converse as Lu, the good fairy herself, had a most difficult role which she carried through most admirably from the first scene in which she gave her interpretation of an usherette's idea of a society woman to the last when she was quite put out with her husband for being six minutes late to dinner.

Eugene Watson as Dr. Metz, the inebriated minister, was excellent, and without doubt almost ran away with the show. Since Peter Burk's appearance as Kellner, the head waiter, it is hard to visualize him as a druggist so fine was he in characterization and make-up.

James Roache-Kelley and Chester A. Shephard did excellent work while Miss Marjorie Collins, recently come from San Jose, proved herself an addition worth while to the players.

To the Burts, Helen Ware and Frederic Burt, credit is due for a fine performance, one in which no amateur edges marred the production.

Hail to the Community Players for one of the best things they have ever done, The Good Fairy.

CASE AGAINST MACHADO WAS DISMISSED MONDAY

The case of Clara Cowan of Seaside against William Machado on a charge of reckless driving was dismissed in Judge Wood's court Monday on failure of Prosecuting Attorney Thompson to appear in court at the hour set.

Attorney Felix moved that the case be dismissed on the grounds that his client, Machado, was entitled to a speedy trial.

The charge grew out of an auto accident recently in which the two cars collided in Carmel.

The many friends of Mrs. Hattie McFarland of the Village Sandwich Shop will sympathize with her in the loss of her mother, who passed away last week in Ogden, Utah. Mrs. McFarland recently visited her mother and has the memory of a very pleasant week to comfort her.

As he was returning home last Thursday evening, Traffic Officer Charles Guth was hurled from his motorcycle to the curb when his machine was hit by a car driven by Miss Mary Ingels at the corner of Eighth and San Carlos about nine o'clock.

Trial was set for next Saturday morning at ten o'clock.

FORMER PATRON ARTS DIES IN SANTA BARBARA

Those who are interested in the Community Plays as they are given here today will be sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Louise Wolcott who passed away in Santa Barbara about ten days ago. About two years ago she left Carmel and went to Santa Barbara to live with her daughter.

Old timers can tell how she got behind the Little Theatre movement here, boosting, directing, acting, filling in any place at the last minute and carrying on to get others interested in the work.

DR. ADDIS TO SPEAK ON FASCISM, SOCIAL CREDIT

Taking for his subject "Fascism and Social Credit," Dr. T. Addis will speak in the Greene studio on Lincoln street, Saturday evening, April 14, at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Addis is from the "New Economics Group of San Francisco." He will conduct a general discussion of Fascism in relation to monetary forms. There will be no admission fee. Dr. Addis spoke here some time ago and attracted a great deal of attention with his principles of social credit.

GAS RANGE WEEK

OPENS HERE MONDAY

"Gas Range Week" officially begins Saturday, April 14, throughout the State under the sponsorship of the Gas Appliance Society of California.

The last word in modern gas ranges with their automatic features, new smokeless broilers, insulated ovens and oven clock controls will be displayed in the principal furniture and appliance stores throughout the State, and plans being launched by the executive committee of the Society call for many special campaign features of interest to California housewives.

As a special feature of the week members of the Gas Appliance society have agreed to include a $16.00 oven heat regulator on all kitchen heater types of gas ranges priced at $125. or more or on straight gas types of ranges priced at $96. or more. Thus if a housewife purchases a $125. gas range this week she saves $16. making the cost of her range only $109.

NEWS NOTES FROM CARMEL POSTOFFICE

According to the postmistress Mrs. Irene Cator, cancellations in March increased 10,000 over last March, a year ago. If increased mail is a sign of increase in business, this would certainly indicate that business is on the upturn here.

Mrs. Cator reports that only a very few failed to pay their box rents, and that she is very appreciative of the promptness of the patrons of the office.

Bids for the housing of the postoffice for the next two years will close April 20, according to Postmaster Cator. It is rumored that two persons have already placed bids with the government.

"It is not often that we get mail addressed to dogs, but we did on one occasion," said J. L. Nye, assistant postmaster. At the A. T. Hyde home on the corner of Eighth and Monte Verde, according to Mr. Nye, there is a sort of mound a few feet high where the Nye dog may sit and view his domain. This the Hydes named "Spot's Observatory." A letter came to the Carmel postoffice addressed to "Spot, Spot's Observatory."

ABBY LOU BOSWORTH EXHIBITS AT GALLERY

One of the most interesting exhibitions that have been held at the DeWitt-Watrous gallery the past year may now be seen—that of Abby Lou Bosworth.

Miss Bosworth's showing consists mainly of oils, though she has some very fine wood cuts and drawings.

One of the most attractive to me is the snow scene in Norway; for though the brilliant colorings of the oils from Carmel Valley to Norway are very pleasing, the snow scene has in it all the feeling that comes to one who looks out over a vast expanse of snow-covered area—a sort of feeling that man himself is so infinitesimal in the scheme of things. Miss Bosworth has caught just that in her canvas.

Miss Bosworth studied art in Boston and with Hayes-Miller in the New York Student's Art League. Last year she went to Norway and spent several months there and brought back some distinctive pictures from that region.

One arresting picture which the artist calls, "Roofers Work Late," shows a night or evening scene in Boston. She said that in springtime in that country the darkness comes so early the men have to finish their labors by artificial light.

"An April Blizzard" shows a man trudging homeward in a snow storm late at night. "I was coming home from the theatre one night," said Miss Bosworth when I saw this scene, and the shadows on the snow caught my fancy. It seems to me that so often a late April blizzard in Boston comes and takes the people who are out to the theatre or some other place unaware." She caught the spirit of the night in this scene.

Miss Bosworth tells so entertainingly of her visit to Norway. In showing her scenes of the fjords, she said, "I stayed up all night on deck close to that location, just drifting around the fjord and looking at the northern lights. The captain felt that he couldn't go to bed and leave me alone and so he sat there with me. I never saw such a gorgeous sight. It was bitterly cold."

I wish you might hear Miss Bosworth describe these lights as she described them to a small group at the gallery late Wednesday.

I hope you will be fortunate enough to see these pictures when Miss Bosworth is present, for she has a most interesting personality and she has put a bit of herself into each canvas. —E.F.B.

CITY ELECTION CLOSE ON THREE CANDIDATES

With a total of 441 votes out of 600 James Thoburn led in the race for councilmen at the city election Monday.

High vote of the remaining four was received by Bernard Rowntree with 324; next high, Joseph Burge with 318; third, F. P. Howard with 315 and fourth Johnnie Neikirk with 215.

Although nine absentee votes remain to be counted, it is not thought that it will change the results since Mr. Burge claims at least five of the nine which will be counted at the council meeting next Monday evening, when the new officers will be sworn in.

The close vote, however, makes it possible for Howard to nose Burge out, and to tie with Rowntree, or for Burge to secure second place.

Only 505 voted on the question of a city hall but of these 269 voted against and 236 for. Since, however, there was an error in the printing of the ballots which were printed in San Francisco, the results made little difference. Had the $30,000 the ballots called for been voted, it would hardly have been possible to build a city hall with such a small amount.

Citizens to the number of 250 cast their votes at Sunset and 350 at the fire house.

It has been the custom for the councilman receiving the highest vote to be chosen as chairman of the council and given the title of mayor. If the custom prevails this year, James H. Thoburn will be the next mayor.

Concerning Mr. Thoburn, one estimable lady said, "I knew James Thoburn's father when he graduated at Allegheny college in Meadville, Pa., and later I knew and loved his mother very much. Mr. Thoburn could not help but be a fine man with such parents."

Scarcely any campaign was carried on for the offices and the citizenry is well pleased with the choice of councilmen.

ROBLES DEL RIO CLUB HAS NEW MANAGEMENT

Carmel folk are fortunate in that they will have so near a place to play throughout the year that is easily accessible and delightful. Robles del Rio club is to be enlarged and will be run on up to the minute lines where the comfort and well being of the guest will be the paramount issue.

W. R. Mawson was in Carmel Tuesday and announced that he had taken over the management of the club and would add six rooms, all bedrooms equipped with Beautyrest mattresses and box springs.

Mr. Mawson comes from San Francisco where for fifteen years he was manager for the San Francisco Golf Club and he knows how to look after pleasure seekers.

The golf course there is well known to all golfers hereabout and is now under Phil Wilson, Sr., as pro.

Not only is Robles del Rio accessible but it is a land of perpetual sunshine, and with its fine golf course, tiled, heated swimming pool and comfortable inn, what more could one ask?

QUALITY MARKET HAS NEW REFRIGERATOR

Mrs. Lovell Triggs and Dudley Triggs of Palo Alto spent the week-end with Mrs. Louise Hasty in Carmel.

FIRST AID CLASS TO MEET THIS EVENING

The first meeting of the First Aid class under the auspices of the local Red Cross chapter, with Dr. Willard Co-vault as instructor, will be held this evening in the Boy Scout house.

This class promises to grow into an important organization with the firemen, telephone men, hospital nurses and many others already interested.

The course is open to all who are interested, without cost, and may be of inestimable value to those who take advantage of the instruction.

A definite day for the regular meetings will be decided upon tonight, and Monday or Wednesday will probably be decided upon.

PARTY VISITS MISSION SAN ANTONIO SUNDAY

A party of Carmel people and their guests, including Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McGrury, and Ellen Pearl and Mr. and Mrs. McGarragh of Carmel; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Spencer of Ben Lomond; Odessa Gilson and son Jimmie, and W. A. Guichard and Miss Bertha Guichard of Santa Cruz, drove to San Antonio Mission Sunday.

They enjoyed a picnic in the fine picnic grounds at the old mission which is near Jolon, 100 miles from here, within sight of the Hearst ranch. They were much interested in the grist mill and wine press from day gone by.

Mrs. McGrury stated that the members of that parish are looking forward to their annual barbecue the 17th of June, an affair which has been held yearly since the days of the padres. At this time there will be reunions of the old families and of the Mexican and Indian descendants of the early days. The funds will be used for restoration of the mission.

According to members of the party, the country there is looking especially nice and green for this season of the year.

COUNCIL MEETS TONITE FOR SECOND READING

The city council will meet tonight at an adjourned meeting for the second reading of the proposed new business license. It is thought that an adjustment may be made in the $100 phase wherein those who have already paid a license, although they have not yet been in business for one year, may continue at their old rate until the first of July when they will pay at the rate their business has been averaging.
